The dimpled hands and ringlets of gold lie low in marble sleep.
I stretch my hand for a clasp of old, But the empty air is strangely cold,
And my vigil alone I keep,
There's a slumber here, with a radiant crown,
And a cross laid down in the dust;
There's a smile where never a shade comes now,
And how, how sweet in their innocent trust.

Monuments and Gravestones.

TWO WHITE MEN INJURED

Assaulted With a Club by an Angry Negro.

A Gentleman Tells of a Serious Fight in a North Carolina Saw Mill—The Assailant Escapes to the Swamps.

Monday morning, at Aulander, N. C., on the Norfolk and Carolina railroad, a fight occurred in which two white men were badly injured and a colored man placed in danger of being lynched, if captured. The affair occurred at the shingle mill of Mr. M. L. Taylor, and the injured men are brothers, Luther and Curtis Parker.

It seems that the trouble began Saturday, when Curtis Parker, who ascribes the shingles, censured Jenkins for scribbling on them. Jenkins took offense and was told by Whitcomb Cotton, another negro, to do what he pleased, that he (Cotton) would stand by him. The affair passed over, however, and nothing occurred until Monday morning, when Parker noticed a large iron bar under Cotton's work table. He inquired what it was there for, and the negro replied "For you, if necessary." Parker grabbed the bar and struck Cotton on the arm with it. The men grappled, but were separated by Luther Parker, brother of Curtis.

FELLED WITH A BLUDGEON.
Cotton then ran to the boiler room and securing a large club, returned to the fray. Luther Parker tried to stop him, and while so engaged was struck on the head with an oaken bludgeon by Walter Lassiter, a half brother of Cotton.

The blow was of terrible force and crushed in the side of Parker's head. The assailant then turned to Curtis Parker, and before the latter could defend himself he also had been struck just over the left ear, and fell unconscious to the floor.

ASSAILANT HID IN SWAMP.
Dave Cotton also a half brother of Lassiter, was mixed up in the affair, and he and his brother have been arrested and are now confined in the county jail at Winton. Lassiter fled immediately after striking Curtis Parker, and has not up to this writing been captured, although a large posse of citizens are scouring the surrounding country in search of him.
If caught it is possible he will be summarily dealt with as his assault was cold-blooded and unprovoked.
Both the injured men are single and are of good family.
The negroes have all borne very bad reputations, except Dave Cotton, who is a quiet and unoffensive man.

THE NEW YORK BANKERS

NO TRACE OF THEM WAS DISCOVERED YESTERDAY.

Messrs. Bailey and Kelgan, said to be moneyed men from New York, who came to Norfolk Monday prospecting with a view to opening a bank if the advantages presented were satisfactory, could not be found yesterday. It is known that they looked over the field, inspected two or three buildings and talked with several well known citizens. The old Citizens' Bank building on West Main street would answer their purpose, they said, but they thought the location not as good as desired, and that the rent was more than they wished to pay. It is believed that these gentlemen represent parties who wish to open a private or state bank, to be a branch of some large New York institution. The Virginian-Pilot reporter found one gentleman who met Messrs. Bailey and Kelgan, who thought they intimated opening a large National bank.

These opinions are based very much upon conjecture, as there is no one in Norfolk authorized to speak for the New Yorkers.

Usually strangers proposing to go into business here, call upon the statistician of the Board of Trade for information and advice. These gentlemen did not go to the Board of Trade at all, and sought no information there.

DEAD MAN FOUND.

THE ELIZABETH RIVER GIVES UP ANOTHER VICTIM.

About 4 o'clock yesterday morning a schooner floated the dead body of a white man, attired in a uniform coat, into the Clyde Line dock. It was lifted from the water, and Coroner Newton notified. He had it removed to the city morgue, where a jury of inquest viewed the remains, which are in an advanced stage of decomposition.

It was thought that possibly the man had been connected with the Marine Corps, and Capt. Littleton W. T. Waller was notified. He came over promptly, but failed to identify the corpse. Subsequently the opinion developed that the man came from Suffolk, but this was probably speculation.

Dr. Newton will to-day, unless the body is identified and claimed, have it buried at the expense of the city.

Brought Here For Burial.

The remains of Mrs. H. N. Caswell, whose death occurred in Indianapolis, Ind., last week, reached here Monday morning and were buried in Elmwood cemetery at 11 o'clock. The funeral exercises were held at the grave, and were attended by relatives and friends.

Revival Services.

A large congregation heard Evangelist Elsom at the Freeman Street Baptist Church last night. Several manifested an interest by standing up for prayer, and two confessed Christ. The sermon was on "Forgiveness," a sublime virtue taught and illustrated in the Bible, and absolutely necessary for those who would enter heaven. The daily Bible readings attract large audiences. There will be one held at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Mr. Elsom will preach at 7:45 to-night.

Rev. S. C. Hatcher preached at Centenary M. E. Church last night to a thoughtful and attentive congregation. There will be service again to-night at 8 o'clock, preceded by a thirty minutes' Gospel song service.

EVENING MARRIAGES.

TWO COUPLES UNITED IN BONDS OF WEDLOCK LAST NIGHT.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. W. E. Copeland, No. 209 Ferguson avenue, at 8:30 o'clock last night, when Miss Willie E. Copeland, his handsome and accomplished daughter, was united in the bonds of holy wedlock to Mr. Elisha Trammell, a popular young business man of Norfolk. The bride and groom were most becomingly attired.

Owing to a recent death in the family the marriage was a very quiet one, and was witnessed only by the relatives and close friends of the contracting parties.

The nuptial knot was very impressively tied by Rev. Samuel S. Saunders, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, Portsmouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Trammell will reside at the home of the bride's father.

MYERS—REPHAM.
A pretty home wedding took place last night at the residence of Mr. Ben Myers, of the Dispatch, No. 8 Mariner street, the contracting parties being his sister, Miss Annie Myers, a pretty, attractive and popular young lady, and Mr. L. J. Repham, a young merchant, formerly of South Carolina, but now a resident of Norfolk.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. Benmosche, and was witnessed by a large number of relatives and friends.

Mr. Ben Myers was best man, and Mrs. Jonas Bennett maid of honor, with little Miss Rae Myers as flower girl. The bride gown was made of pearl-colored tulle cloth, trimmed with tulle, and the bride carried a bunch of white roses. The maid was dressed in black satin, with pearl ornaments, and the flower girl was dressed in white. The groom and best man wore conventional black.

The bride was the recipient of a number of nice presents, among them being two checks for good round sums. Telegrams of congratulation were received from friends in Baltimore and New York.

After the ceremony an elegant supper was served, under the direction of Mr. Charles Hiltzler.

Mr. and Mrs. Repham will reside at 561 Church street.

THE TRIAL SATISFACTORY.

NORFOLK AND OCEAN VIEW RAILWAY COMPANY'S NEW BOAT.

Mr. D. N. Hagerty, general superintendent of the Norfolk and Ocean View Railroad Company, has returned from a trip to New York, where he went to witness a test of the steamer Vigilant, that his company recently purchased. He says the steamer is a beautiful boat and that the test proved perfectly satisfactory. He has made his report to President R. Lancaster Williams, and it is likely the boat will be ordered here at once.

The Vigilant will take the place of the Granite City, now plying between Ocean View and Old Point, and the latter will be used as an extra for special occasions.

Who Stephen Bonsai Is.

Stephen Bonsai's book, which roused the ire of General Joseph Wheeler and other officers who participated in the Santiago campaign, possesses some interest for the people of Norfolk, for the reason that it was written by the son of a former well known and popular lady resident of this city. Mr. Stephen Bonsai, the father of the young author, resided here anterior to the late civil war. He conducted the wholesale grocery business in partnership with William S. Camp, under the firm name of Camp & Bonsai, occupying the house in which Colonel Washington Taylor now does business on Roanoke avenue.

Mr. Bonsai was united in marriage to Fannie Lee, daughter of Mr. James Y. Leigh, of this city.

THE SENATORIAL CONTEST

Congressman Jones' Private Secretary in the City.

Feeling the Political Pulse of Leading Democrats in Norfolk—The Forces That Will Be Arrayed in the Senatorial Race.

Mr. Lester Garnett, of Matthews county, private secretary of Hon. W. A. Jones, member of Congress from the First Virginia District, was in Norfolk yesterday feeling the political pulse of the Norfolk Democrats on the Senatorial contest. The Virginian-Pilot learns that Mr. Garnett called on a number of prominent citizens who were supporters of General Lee, and are therefore thought to be anti-Martin. "What his summing up of the situation here is was not given out. Enough is known, however, to note that Mr. Jones has his eye on Norfolk and his friends will make a fight in this city."

THE FORCES.

The contest for the Senatorship is going to be lively if the opposition to Mr. Martin develops any considerable strength. Senator Martin is known to favor Senator Tylor's return to the Senate. Governor Tylor is reported to be friendly to Mr. Jones and Attorney General Montague, and ex-State Hon. R. Walton Moore, both avowed candidates, favor him as second choice. The Lee following in part can naturally be counted as anti-Martin. This is a strong influence against which will be arrayed the strength of Senators Martin, Daniel and a majority of the county chairmen and prominent members of the Legislature.

Some leading Democrats state that Senator Martin is stronger to-day with the people, especially in the Second Congressional District, than he was when elected Senator. He has been organizing his friends pretty thoroughly for some months, and his forces are well in hand. When Mr. Jones formally announces himself a candidate, he will likely arrange to canvas the State, and Mr. Martin will then render an account of his stewardship.

WANTED BY BUSINESS MEN

Sorry the Mischianza Has Been Declared Off.

Hope to Revive it and Hold it in June—Contributions Still Coming in and Much Interest is Manifested in it.

The postponement of the Mischianza was the subject of much discussion among the business people yesterday, and it was the sentiment of not a few that putting the jubilee off indefinitely was equivalent to giving it up altogether, and that they did not want to occur. They say that a great deal of interest had been taken in the event, and that it would certainly have proven of much benefit to the business of this vicinity.

The Mischianza had been talked about considerably, and quite a number of people had already been here looking after arrangements for various attractions. A theatrical agent was here yesterday to see what arrangements he could make about presenting his "Napoleon" in the Armory Hall.

CONTRIBUTIONS STILL COMING.

Several contributions were offered General Manager Anderson by business firms who did not know that the carnival had been declared off. Among these was a generous donation from a Richmond house that had an office in this city. The contributions thus far received and those offered and declined were entirely voluntary, as the soliciting committees have not as yet begun work.

There seems to be a general feeling of regret that the jubilee has been put off, and many expressions were heard yesterday to the effect that the postponement would possibly injure the business here in more ways than one.

MONEY BEEN RETURNED.

All contributions that have been received were returned to the donors, which would indicate that the Mischianza was given up. Several of the directors of the association appeared before the general railroad meeting yesterday and notified the officials that it was not necessary to ask their roads for contributions or reduced rates.

It was suggested by several gentlemen in the rooms of the Business Men's Association that a mass meeting of citizens be called and the matter continued, as so much work had been done that it looked like a pity to stop just as the people were getting thoroughly interested.

WANT IT HELD IN JUNE.

These gentlemen thought that it might be a good idea to change the date from the third week in May to the third week in June. They say this is an argument for this that this is a popular seaside resort that thousands of people would take advantage to attend the Mischianza in order to enjoy a day in the surf.

Several firms reported to General Manager Anderson that they had begun their arrangements for boats to put in the trades parade, and were greatly disappointed that the affair was not going to take place.

It is possible that a mass meeting will be called and some arrangements made to continue the work.

STREET IMPROVEMENTS.

WORK ON HAND AND IN CONTEMPLATION.

At the last meeting of the Councils the Local Board of Brambleton was authorized to shell, gutter and curb seven streets in Brambleton. One of these thoroughfares being Kelly avenue. It would be hard to find a street in worse condition than this one. Claiborne avenue is another street that needs repairing, especially at the intersection of Park. There is much heavy hauling from the Virginia Beach depot, and wagons have cut up the unpaved streets and in damp weather portions of Claiborne avenue is impassable for teams heavily loaded.

It is said that soon the repairing the Brambleton streets will be going ahead with energy.

The street force has completed the brick laying on Chapel street to Mosely, and the foundation has been prepared to Calvert street. If the weather continues mild and dry this work will be finished to Mr. East's factory in one more week.

The large iron pipes from McCullough's dock to the electric plant on Cove street have been put down from the dock to the City Hall.

The Street, Sewer and Drain Board have all the information desired to estimate the cost of opening Tripoli street, and will make a report to the Councils at next meeting.

Yesterday a crossing was being put down on Main street in front of the Citizens' Bank.

Still Working on the Budget.

The Finance Committee held another meeting last night to work on the budget and consider other matters referred to it by the Councils. The meetings of this committee are held behind closed doors and very little is given out for publication.

It was reported that members of the committee said yesterday that they thought that the money could be found with which to pay the police the advance asked by them and authorized by the Select Council.

Mr. Church Lewis Condition.

It was reported last night that the condition of Mr. W. Church Lewis, who was shot and badly wounded several days ago, in an altercation with Mr. David Hathaway, was very serious, and that his arm would have to be amputated. Upon the authority of his attendants at St. Vincent's Hospital, the Virginian-Pilot states that this report is untrue. Mr. Lewis is doing fairly well, but is not recovering as rapidly as friends hoped and expected.

Both Improving.

The condition of Major J. F. Milligan, who has been critically ill for some time, shows no material change. Mr. Charles Pickett was reported a little better last night. He is a very sick man, and his friends are much concerned.

THE NEW ELECTRIC LINE.

INSPECTING THE ROUTE TO SEWALL'S POINT.

The consulting engineers of the Norfolk and Atlantic Terminal Company were in the city yesterday to inspect the route of the Sewall's Point Electric Railway. These gentlemen expressed themselves as highly pleased with Norfolk and vicinity, and pronounced the work of Messrs. Haenselman & Smith, who have done the surveying on this new road, to be first class.

LARGE BRICK STABLE.

TO BE ERECTED IN REAR OF CITY JAIL.

Plans have been drawn and contract let for the erection of a large brick stable on the vacant lot in the rear of the jail. This lot was recently bought by Frank Darling, of Hampton, from Messrs. Cobb & Milhodo, for $8,500. It fronts 110 feet on Cove street. It was thought that this lot would be needed to properly and cheaply enlarge the jail, and Messrs. Cobb & Milhodo offered it to the Councils, but the offer was not accepted. It was stated at the time that the city could afford to hold the property, as the rents from two buildings on it pay an annual dividend of 5 per cent. The proposition to sell to the city was laid on the table. The gentleman making the motion, remarking that the city was not ready to go into the real estate business. It is stated that if the matter had gone to a committee that they would have reported the property could be secured at about the price paid by Mr. Darling. Mr. Darling will erect the stables without delay, and it is very certain that when the City Fathers get ready to build a jail if real estate is needed, they will have to pay much more than the figures named by Messrs. Cobb & Milhodo.

VALUABLE ART EXHIBIT.

RARE ETCHINGS, STEEL ENGRAVINGS, OIL AND WATER COLORS.

Lovers of art in Norfolk will be interested in the visit of Mr. S. Schulz, of Paris, who is now stopping at the Monticello, and who has on exhibition at Nussbaum's a fine collection of genuine first proofs of etchings, steel engravings, with water and oil colors, reproductions by famous artists of the famous masterpieces of modern painters, and originals from the brushes of artists of international renown now living. A Virginian-Pilot representative was given a "first view" yesterday of this collection and noted among the etchings reproductions of "The Slave Mart" and "The Royal Galley," by C. Delatt; "In the Heart of the Highlands" and "Going Home," by Sluomb; "The Dispatch Bearer," by Alphonse de Neuville.

In Steel Plate—"The Day After the Fight," by L. Kraus, is a good example. In Oil—"The Capitalization of Ulin," by George Hyon, Salon exhibitor of 1896, is a historical study of great force and value, reminding one of Messiaenier.

The water color work of recent French artists are well worth a trip to see, as they show strongly the present semi-revolt in French art against the impressionist school, and the reversion to the days of Le Petit Train in figure painting, and the Watteau school with its coqueness. Norfolk needs a purely art store, with exhibition hall, such as can be found in every large city North, and of which Williams & Everett, Doll & Richards and Turner, in Boston, are fair examples.

Exhibitions of this sort need only the encouragement of such an established hall, or room, to multiply in number and improve in quality, drawing the best paintings here for display and study, and creating a nucleus around which a strong artistic taste would rapidly develop.

Going Back to Service.

Captain J. Cottrell, formerly of the U. S. Revenue Service and a U. S. pilot of "ye olden time," and during the civil war commander of the U. S. gunboat Massasoit, is about to go back to his old love. (He leaves here Thursday afternoon via the S. A. L. for Key West to take charge of the U. S. tug Penwood, running from Tortugas to Key West. Capt. Cottrell is a valuable man and his many friends in this port will miss him, but wish him good luck in his new-old venture.

Captain Roper Buys a Mill.

At Elizabeth City, N. C., yesterday the Pasquotank Lumber Company's mill and standing timber were sold at public auction to the highest bidder, and was purchased by Captain John L. Roper, of this city, he paying $8,500 for the former, and $550 per for the latter. It is understood that plant is quite valuable and that Captain Roper obtained a bargain.

The Monument.

The shaft for the Confederate Monument will be placed in position to-day, to be followed by the plinth and the bronze figure. The Messrs. Gauper are pushing the work to completion as rapidly as practicable. It will be an imposing and handsome structure, and reflect great credit upon them, both in the design and execution.
